THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT AUSTIN

Texas Undergraduate Research Journal

Recruitment guide
2026–2027

A student journal for undergraduate research across every discipline

Four branches

01

Editing

Review manuscripts and work with authors through revisions. Write and edit features for The Pioneer.

02

Campaigns

Plan research panels and networking events. Coordinate speakers, venues, and event logistics.

03

Communications

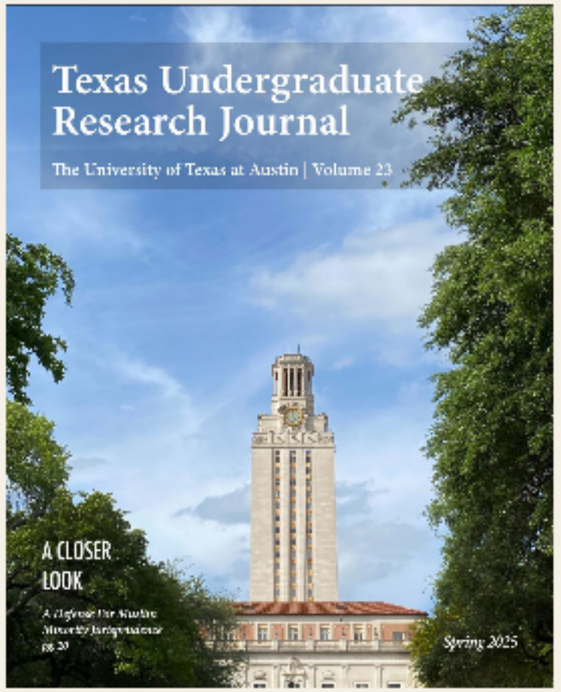

Create publicity for our events. Maintain our website and social channels, and lay out the journal.

04

Finance

Track spending and seek funding. Coordinate fundraising and help plan the organization’s budget.

Inside the editing team

01 Manuscript selection

Screen original undergraduate research for the journal.

02 Faculty review

Coordinate subject-specific feedback from UT researchers.

03 Author revisions

Work with authors to clarify and strengthen their papers.

04 Publication

Prepare the final manuscripts with communications.

Beyond the journal

The Pioneer

Student-written essays make research accessible through everyday questions, culture, and science.

Campus events

Panels, workshops, and networking nights connect undergraduates with researchers and opportunities across campus.
